

SOCIETY

SUCCESSFUL SOLDIERS' SOCIAL.

Central Union Women's society kept open house for the enlisted men of the service Thursday evening, and the women in charge of the affair have reason to feel pleased with the success of their venture. Between four and five hundred persons were in attendance, and although a much larger number of boys might have been served, the hostesses feel very glad that so many awaited themselves of the opportunity to come. Scarcely is it possible to get together at a social function so many of the church members, and the committee in charge were very much pleased at the way in which the members attended, and the cordial and hearty support which was given to the committees' plans for the entertainment of the men.

The decorations, which were unusually elaborate and attractive, were arranged by Mrs. J. L. Young, Mrs. Harry Shaw, Mrs. Clifton Tracy and Mrs. A. A. Hobson. Quantities of yellow golden rod and masses of yellow lilies were placed about the rooms in jars and baskets, while potted palms and ferns added an attractive setting for the spots of glowing color. A frieze of gracefully trailing vines spanned the doorways between the reception hall and the room where the program was given, while tall, bright leaved crotons added a homelike touch to the small reception room at the entrance.

As each guest arrived he was met by a committee of men, F. J. Lowrey, Zeno K. Myers, Edwin Benner and J. T. Warren, and his name, birth, state and regiment were written upon a slip of paper and pinned to his breast, this method aiding greatly in the introductions. Each one attending followed the same plan and seldom has a Central Union social been such a "social" affair. Mrs. Walter F. Frear was chairman of the reception committee and she was ably assisted by Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, president of the Women's War Council; Mrs. Edwin Benner, president of the Women's society; Miss Ruth Benedict, Mrs. C. H. Kluegel, Miss Julia Gulick, Mrs. Rosa Woodford and others.

Mrs. Zeno K. Myers was the general chairman in charge of the social and to her and her capable assistants great credit is due for the success of the affair. Mrs. Myers was assisted by Mrs. Frank Atherton, who had the program in charge; Mrs. Robert McLean, Mrs. Raymond Brown, Mrs. J. Kelly Brown, Mrs. Harry Shaw and Mrs. Stanley McKenzie. Others assisting the committee were Mrs. Andrew Fuller, who presided over the destinies of the kitchen and made the wonderful coffee for which she is famous; Mrs. Clifton J. Tracy, chairman of the house committee; Mrs. J. L. Young, chairman of the standing social committee, Mrs. A. A. Hobson of the soliciting committee and many others.

The first number of the program was a group of songs by Miss Lillian Welch, accompanied on the piano by Miss Way, which were much enjoyed. Miss Welch possesses a voice of much strength and sweetness and her part in the program was greatly enjoyed. This was followed by some clever club singing by Frank Atherton, which seemed to please the men immensely. The third number on the program was a group of three songs artistically rendered by Mrs. Walter Kendall of Portland, Oregon, who five years ago was a member of Central Union choir. Her beautiful mezzo soprano voice was always a delight to those who used to hear her in Honolulu and it was a great pleasure to welcome her again. Her voice possesses exquisite quality and flexibility and is strong and full of feeling. Her enunciation is perfect and her stage presence possesses all of the charm of her own winning personality. Her singing last evening for the soldier boys was especially appreciated, as she left another function to come to the church and sing. Her accompaniments were played by Miss Helen Grace Cadwell, whose work at the piano is always so much enjoyed.

Slight of hand tricks very cleverly performed by Dr. Robert Day Williams, president of the Mid-Pacific Institute, and thoroughly enjoyed by all present, closed an unusually excellent program, after which coffee and home made cake were served in the parish house, where, amid a setting of pepper bushes and potted plants, tables bearing yellow daylight lilies in crystal vases were laden with toothsome refreshments. A bevy of young women served the refreshments and if there was a man there who did not have as much cake and coffee as he could possibly desire, it was his own fault. So liberally had the women provided that after all had been served several boxes of cake were given the men to take back to camp to their less fortunate brothers in arms who were unable to obtain liberty for the evening. After the refreshments had been served Mr. Benner sprang upon a table and called for the hands of any whose birthday it might be. One young sailor from the Alert responded and to him was given a mammoth birthday cake bigger than most "mothers used to make" and replete with lighted red candles. Later this cake was taken by the fortunate possessor to his ship where his messmates were given a taste of the delectable sweetmeat which had been made by Mrs. Lowrey, chairman of the Women's War Council.

Before the affair broke up Social Secretary Mosher of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A., called for three cheers for the women of Central Union, and they were given with a will the boys waving their hands and smiling their appreciation of the evening's hospitality. Among the guests were a blonde-haired boy from Sweden, a dark-eyed native of Armenia, men from the Sunny South, from the plains of Kansas and Iowa, from New York, Texas and California—men about to be ordered away, some newly arrived, some wearing the sailor's blouse and some the army khaki—all mingling together in an evening of informal and wholesome fun.

This is but the first of regular monthly service socials which the women of this church are to give, and they hope that even more guests will respond to the next invitation.

MRS. W. A. LOVE HONORS MRS. A. MACKINTOSH

Mrs. C. Arthur Mackintosh was the guest of honor at a luncheon on Wednesday of this week over which Mrs. W. A. Love presided as hostess. Knitting was the pleasure of the guests after luncheon. Those enjoying Mrs. Love's hospitality were Mrs. C. A. Mackintosh, Miss Mary von Holt, Mrs. Theodore Cooke, Mrs. Stanley McKenzie, and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett.

CHILDREN'S PARTY

A delightful birthday party to little Anna Margery Kingswood, niece of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Edwards, was given at the Edwards' home on Tuesday evening. The house was beautifully decorated with large American flags, pink and green electric lights, and pink hibiscus. Pink and green streamers were also used effectively in the spacious dining room. A beautiful birthday cake, decorated with pink roses, was the chief attraction for the young people. The guests were:

Mrs. Capt. R. B. Bolton and Master Bolton, Mrs. George Clark and Master George Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, Julia, Anna and Olivia Silva, Ruth and Maria McLean, Alice Ahsan, Mrs. F. C. Stewart and Master Michael Stewart, Miss Kawehilau Stewart, Mrs. Frank Manize and Masters Edward and George Manize, Mrs. O. P. Soares and Master Oliver Soares, Janet Fife, Adeline Madeiros, Alice, Virginia and Lucy Madeiros, Master Clarence Silveira and Margaret and Diana Silveira, Master Lloyd La Flatch.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will leave in a few days for the mainland, accompanied by their niece.

MATTHEWS' WEDDING

A quiet and impressive wedding was that at noon today in the Christian church, Kewalo street, when Mr. A. J. Matthews and Miss Alice Louise Farley, both of this city, were united in marriage by Minister David Cary Peters.

Attendants to the happy couple were Mr. Stewart W. Keys and Miss Olive Wolf. A few close friends were present at the ceremony.

Miss Farley is a daughter of the late Senator James T. Farley of California and has been in Honolulu about three years, being employed as a stenographer with Alexander & Baldwin.

Mr. Matthews has been with the constructing quartermaster's department of this city for four years, and was formerly of Salem, Massachusetts. Both of the young people are known to a large number of friends who have for them the sincerest of good wishes.

They left this afternoon for a honeymoon trip to the Volcano of Kilauea, and upon their return to Honolulu will live at 3161 Liloa Rise, Manoa.

THE FOOTLIGHTS CLUB CHOOSES ITS PLAYS

Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes, chairman of the program committee of the Footlights club, has arranged a delightful set of plays for the winter and is busy now getting the players into line. Three one-act plays are to be given in December and early January, the proceeds to go for Red Cross war fund.

Mrs. Hamilton P. Agee, who writes under the pen name of Fanny Heaslip Lea, and whose clever work aside from her very attractive personality has made her authorship tremendously popular, has written a playlet, "About Women." It must be clever, for it has been accepted by the Washington Square players in New York City and when produced here will be by special permission.

The other two, "Eugenically Speaking" and "Overtones, or The Cat's Paw," are both worth while.

ENGLISH BEAUTY OF FAME BECOMES WAR BRIDE

Honoluluans of yesterday who followed closely the affairs of the English court will well read the following with interest:

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 21.—Americans will be deeply interested in the marriage a few days ago of Miss Muriel Wilson to Lieutenant R. W. Warde, M. C., of the Scots Guards. Muriel Wilson's name, from the days that she was one of the most beautiful and brilliant debutantes at one of the last drawing-rooms held by Queen Victoria, has been famous.

To Americans the Wilsons' name is extremely familiar, for everyone who has reached years of discretion must remember the famous card scandal at Tranby Croft, in which the present Countess of Warwick, then Lady Brooke, and the late King Edward, the Prince of Wales, were concerned as witnesses. Miss Muriel Wilson, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson of Tranby Croft and a girl in her teens at that time, was simply an adjunct to the whole amazing society story. But for years her name, naturally, was more or less associated with the world-famous chronicle scandal.

Mrs. Warde, to give the beautiful Muriel her present name is not exactly what we call nowadays "a flapper," but she is a splendid-looking woman, in type suggesting the dark and classical loveliness of Miss Maxine Elliot more than anyone else who happens to mind. She has always been a famous amateur actress, and the annual theatrical performances during Christmas time at Chatsworth, when the late Duke and Duchess of Devonshire were alive, made her specially notable. In fact, so successful were her efforts both as a tragedienne and comedienne that at one time Sir Herbert Tree was anxious to engage her as his leading lady at His Majesty's theater.

MRS. J. M. DOWSETT'S LUNCHEON

Mrs. J. M. Dowsett entertained on Friday complimenting Mrs. W. Babbitt, who goes to Manila shortly to remain a year.

MRS. HENDRY WATERHOUSE'S SUNDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kendall were the guests of honor at a Sunday dinner over which Mrs. Henry Waterhouse presided as hostess.

ADAMS-BRADLEY ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The following betrothal card has been received by the friends of the bride-elect in Honolulu. Miss Bradley has visited here, having spent a summer and part of a winter with her brother-in-law and sister, Judge and Mrs. Edward M. Watson, where she became justly popular, for she is a very charming and delightful girl with a deal of individual charm. Her fiancé is a very promising young businessman of Visalia, being the manager of a large beet sugar factory. They will be married shortly and will come to Honolulu to spend their honeymoon and while here will be the guests of Judge and Mrs. Watson.

STAY EAST TO DO HELPFUL WORK

Miss Endora Clover, daughter of Admiral and Mrs. Richardson Clover, who has been wont to spend her summers with the family at Cloverdale, this year declined to come West on account of the war service work in which she is interested in Washington, and the end of the summer finds her with the sobriquet "Colonel" Clover, in recognition of her fidelity to be work.

Miss Clover has done much of her patriotic work under the auspices of the National League for Women's Service. She is now one of the field "trainers" of the league, going about from city to city assisting the various local organizations to solve the problems with which they are confronted. —S. F.
